

Trafficlights4peace.com and Saveourplanetday.co.uk
Provide the mechanism for us all to work together,
for survival. Only by respecting each other and planet can we succeed.

A neutral, universally accepted, easily visible, easily reproducible means is needed to bond us all.

The traffic lights symbolising the message:

is the answer.

Already globally distributed, especially where CO2 is most prevalent, it is transformed into a poster for action on nearly every street corner, to remind us of the importance to act and to change direction at this moment when the world is in danger and at a metaphorical crossroads.

So many of the world's problems are caused by greed and a thirst for power. Only by uniting in a way never achieved before can we hope to survive and counter such forces.

Join the Traffic lights for peace and 'Save our planet' day networks.

We use as few of the Earth's resources as possible to exist.

We are therefore web-based. Together we have hope and strength.

Divided we are easy pickings.

Save our planet day is a means to involve and inform LOCALLY of what you can do SIMPLY. We are non-financial. We are FREE ourselves, but we encourage you to join other organisations who do need financial support for their work.

We are promoting a series of co-ordinated days. Simple. Local. Get involved. The concept's simplicity is its strength. Help turn the traffic lights, a well established essential part of our everyday modern lives, into a message board for change. So simple. So achievable. Help our world heal. Do it. Join us now, its free.

Just log on, tell friends about us. Use the site to keep up to date with what matters for our survival. Volunteer to help with a 'Save our planet' day event local to you. Help set one up if you wish. The means and help to do so are available on the web-site and by contacting other co-ordinators.

No money is needed, we use the many excellent organisations that already exist, boosting and bonding them in the process.

The elusive means to achieve unity of purpose to 'Save our planet' is here. It is now. It is in front of you! Help make this possibility come true. Grab this chance before our time runs out.

Trafficlights4peace.com and Saveourplanetday.co.uk
Provide the mechanism for us all to work together,
for survival. Only by respecting each other and planet can we succeed.

A neutral, universally accepted, easily visible, easily reproducible means is needed to bond us all.

The traffic lights symbolising the message:

is the answer.

Already globally distributed, especially where CO2 is most prevalent, it is transformed into a poster for action on nearly every street corner, to remind us of the importance to act and to change direction at this moment when the world is in danger and at a metaphorical crossroads.

So many of the world's problems are caused by greed and a thirst for power. Only by uniting in a way never achieved before can we hope to survive and counter such forces.

Join the Traffic lights for peace and 'Save our planet' day networks.

We use as few of the Earth's resources as possible to exist.

We are therefore web-based. Together we have hope and strength.

Divided we are easy pickings.

Save our planet day is a means to involve and inform LOCALLY of what you can do SIMPLY. We are non-financial. We are FREE ourselves, but we encourage you to join other organisations who do need financial support for their work.

We are promoting a series of co-ordinated days. Simple. Local. Get involved. The concept's simplicity is its strength. Help turn the traffic lights, a well established essential part of our everyday modern lives, into a message board for change. So simple. So achievable. Help our world heal. Do it. Join us now, its free.

Just log on, tell friends about us. Use the site to keep up to date with what matters for our survival. Volunteer to help with a 'Save our planet' day event local to you. Help set one up if you wish. The means and help to do so are available on the web-site and by contacting other co-ordinators.

No money is needed, we use the many excellent organisations that already exist, boosting and bonding them in the process.

The elusive means to achieve unity of purpose to 'Save our planet' is here. It is now. It is in front of you! Help make this possibility come true. Grab this chance before our time runs out.